Why Shall I Go To Church

BY REV. C. C. CRAGIN.

Gen. 28:16. "And Jacob awoke out of his sleep, and he said, 'Surely the Lord is in this place, and I knew it not.'"

What the patriarch, Jacob, said of his lonely resting place at Bethel we can say here, where God is worshiped, "Surely the Lord is in this place." Where one man sees God in the solitude of nature a hundred see Him in the sanctuary. Where the vision of the heavenly ladder comes to one as he gazes into the open heaven, that vision comes to many when they look upward in the church, with mind and heart touched by the inspiring hymn, the earnest prayer, the thoughtful sermon. If silence is eloquent of God to the few, at special seasons, the presence of God is more manifest to the many, when the air echoes the sound of worship, and the words of scripture, and the voice of Christian testimony, Christian argument or Christian appeal.

Jacob shared in the prevalent thought of his time and limited the manifestation of God to certain places and seasons. As the heathen had one god for the mountains, and another for the valleys, and another for the winds, and another for the seas, so Jacob had not come to believe in the presence of the God of the Hebrews everywhere. Little did he think of seeing God in his lonely vigil at Bethel till his homesickness and his fear of robbers and wild beasts and his anxiety as to the outcome of his long expedition brought the dream which made God so near and so real and called out the glad and solemn announcement, "Surely the Lord is in this place, and I knew it not." So others, with a like experience, may sing:

"Though, like a wanderer,
The sun gone down,
Darkness be over me,
My rest a stone,
Yet in my dream I'd be,
Nearer, my God, to Thee,
Nearer, my God, to Thee."

But as I have already indicated, the experiences are more common in the sanctuary than elsewhere. While it is true that God is every where, it is no less true that He oftenest manifests Himself in the place where men are found for His worship. "The Lord is in His holy temple." He meets His people there. He welcomes them there. He brings them "to the banqueting house and His banner over them is love."

I have anticipated, in interpreting the text, one of the chief answers to the question of my theme, Why should I go to Church? Let me proceed in a more orderly manner. Why should I go to church?

1. First, to brush off the dust and the grime of the world. They accumulate during the week sadly. The steam engine of the factory needs to be shut down once a week for rest and for cleaning and oiling. This human frame, this complicated mechanism of body and spirit; this being that feels and thinks and will; this personality, this thing that I am has its special needs. Once a week it needs to get away from the barn and the harvest field and store and shop, and the office and the study. Once a week it needs to get away from the school room and the kitchen, and the parlor and the sewing room and the nursery. Body and soul require a change of atmosphere if they would thrive. Without Sunday and the church we might lapse into barbarism. There is much of the beast and the savage in human nature. The higher nature must be given a breathing spell and a chance to assert itself if it would not come into perpetual bondage. The selfish impulse in man, the worldly push and drive, the money-making instinct must be driven into the back ground once a week at least, if the man is to be well-balanced and symmetrical. The bread and butter question, the problem of raiment and housekeeping, the trade, the profession must not engross us all the time, else we become machines, monsters or maniacs. Rest at home is not enough. A Sunday picnic or Sunday excursion does not meet the need; we are made in God's image; we need one day in which He shall be uppermost in our thoughts. It is worth something to put on the Sunday clothes; it is more to think the Sunday thoughts; it is most to have feelings and purposes appropriate to the day. Why should I go to church? I repeat, to brush off the dust and the grime of the world. Said Rev. Dr. Bel-lows, an eminent Unitarian minister, a man of more than three-score years and ten—said this man, "I never knew a man who absented himself regularly from church and who had a theory for absenting himself, that did not come to grief."

2. Why shall I go to church? To discharge a duty of good citizenship. More than any other organization known to men, the church stands for good citizenship. It teaches respect for law and order. It believes neither in strikes nor lockouts; it sides neither with labor nor with capital. It honors diligence and frugality. Its hero and its head was a village carpenter. His chief apostle was a scholar and a magistrate. Its roll of illustrious names has men of all callings and dispositions. Shepherds, like Moses, who became a lawgiver and leader; shepherds, like Joseph, who became prime minister of Egypt, and shepherds, like David, who became king of Israel; fishermen, like Peter, who became an apostle of the Messiah. With such diversity of employment in its early leaders, the church has learned sympathy with all classes and conditions of men. A single verse of one of the epistles which the church counts authoritative, has the bidding, "Honor all men, love the brotherhood, fear God, honor the king." Still more inclusive are the two main commandments, "Thou shalt love the Lord, thy God, with all thy heart, and thy neighbor as thyself." If obedience to this would not bring good citizenship, I do not know where you could expect to find it. If the rank and file of the Christian church are not trying to obey these commands, then I do not know the organization in which I have been an officer for thirty-five years and a member ever since I was thirteen years old, a membership which began in New England, an office-bearing in four states of the interior, and in this great state of the Pacific Coast.

I recognize the shortcomings of the church. It follows the Master, like Peter after the betrayal, "afar off." The church is recruited from the world, and it is sadly tinged with worldliness. All its members are descendants of the Adam who transgressed in the garden. They all have the infirmities of fallen human nature and these show themselves in unaccountable ways and again. But the church traces its origin to the second Adam, the Lord Jesus Christ. So far as its members have their names written in the Lamb's book of life, so far are they descendants of this second Adam, so far there is incorporated upon the old corrupt human nature, a graft of spiritual nature, like a choice insertion from a higher stock.

A belief in God is essential to good citizenship, and the mission of the church is to strengthen that belief. There is little of good citizenship in heathendom; there it is every man for himself. Men lose hope and heart in trying to be good and to help forward the right, if they do not realize that God is at hand to cheer and to aid. Said a thoughtful French philosopher, "If God did not exist he would need to be created," meaning that the world could not get along without a belief in God; men would need to believe in God for their comfort and de-fense if they had any desire to do right.

You cannot help along good citizenship so well as by attending church, becoming a Christian and seeking to win others to a Christian life and to strengthen that life of God in the soul. The best com-

Our Building Boom

Sonoma Valley is experiencing this year's greatest building boom in its history, thus furnishing unmistakable evidence of the great prosperity in all lines existing in this good old valley.

The El Verano Lumber Yard reports the sale within the past two weeks, of lumber and other building materials for twelve new houses, mostly modern cottages many of which are being built by new settlers. This is not counting the building materials purchased of other dealers and from other sections. It is safe to say that there are now being built or contracted for, fully 36 buildings of various kinds in our favored valley.

We believe today that Sonoma Valley has a brighter future than any other section of Imperial Sonoma. The climatic and other attractions of this valley can not be surpassed in California and as this fact becomes better known, our prosperity and growth will become correspondingly greater. Another potent factor in the upbuilding of this section is this: You can buy land for what it is actually worth and do not have to pay fancy prices or any price at all, in fact, for our mild and healthful climate.

Home-seekers, come to Sonoma Valley, you will be entirely satisfied.

The 9th in Sonoma

The prospects for a great meet under the auspices of Sonoma Driving Club in this city on Admission Day, were never brighter. An unusually large number of entries have been made insuring five good races, running, trotting or pacing and road races. The comfort of the spectators has been looked out for, a fine large grand stand now being constructed. Refreshments will be served at the track. The racing will commence at 1:30 and finish at 5:30 or 6 in the afternoon or in time for those visitors who desire to take the evening train home. Admission to the grounds will be only 25 cents.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

The Board of Trustees of the City of Sonoma, met as a Board of Equalization last Saturday evening but owing to the absence of Trustees Holz and Wagon, adjournment was taken until the following Monday.

The Board then immediately reconvened as a Board of Trustees to consider bids for city printing the contract being awarded to the lowest bidder on each item.

The Expositor was awarded the contract for seven difficult pieces of job printing, the Index getting the award for publishing legal notices for the city at the rate of 1 3/4 cents per square, of 234 lines nonpareil and 1 1/2 cent for each subsequent insertion.

No further business appearing, adjournment was taken.

Special Meeting

There will be a special meeting of the Board of Trustees of the City of Sonoma, tonight (Friday) evening, for the purpose of receiving and acting upon the applications for licenses of local saloon men. The new ordinance goes into effect on Sept. 1, 1907.

Train Delayed

A breaking of a spring on the engine pulling the S. P. train to the county seat last Tuesday morning caused a delay of over an hour. Another engine was sent for and brought the afternoon train back.

Local Talent Recognized

A new song of merit has just been published by one of the leading musical publication houses of America, the Geo. Jaber Music Co., of Cincinnati, Ohio. It is entitled "The Moonlight Gleanings Upon the Lake" and is a very catchy composition that will no doubt become a popular song.

Miss Edna E. Poppe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. J. Poppe of Glen Ellen, is the author of the words and Miss Laura L. Russell of Sonoma, wrote the musical part of the piece. Both young ladies are high school graduates and have remarkable genius in their respective lines and the results of their work are sure to meet with popular approval.

Sonoma Valley is justly proud of her talented daughters and confidently look forward to a time when the young authoresses will become famous in the musical world.

The young ladies feel greatly encouraged over their bright prospects and have a number of unpublished manuscripts which have been pronounced excellent by musical critics.

URGED TO REMAIN

The pastor of the M. E. Church is just completing a three years' course of ministry in this city. The official board of the church at the Third Quarterly Conference held this year, unanimously petitioned his return to the church for a fourth year and at the last quarterly conference held a few days ago, urgently repeated the petition. The pastor is placing himself in the hands of the Bishop to stay or to move as the latter may see fit.

It is sincerely hoped that this community will be fortunate enough to have Rev. Rowe with us for another year to carry on the good work in which he is engaged. The church has grown and prospered under Rev. Rowe's pastorate and he and his estimable wife are held in high esteem not only by the congregation but by all classes of good people as well.

The gasoline schooner, "Four Sisters," which sank in the bay near Benicia, has been raised. The Whitelaw Wrecking Company sent divers down and had the schooner pumped out and finally succeeded in raising the boat. She was towed to San Francisco, and then to Petaluma, where she arrived Tuesday morning with her damaged cargo. The cargo is owned by the Golden Eagle Milling Company. It may be sold for chicken feed. Albert Sandvig of the Golden Eagle mills, has been superintending the work of rescuing the vessel. The vessel is but little damaged.

REV. CRAGIN RESIGNS

Rev. C. C. Cragin, who has been pastor of the Congregational Church of Sonoma for the past two years, has resigned his position on account of the continued ill health of his son and daughter, who reside at the home place at Campbell, Santa Clara Co.

The resignation was reluctantly accepted by the congregation and will take effect September 15, next.

Rev. Cragin has made many friends during his stay in our city, who will be sorry to lose him but whose best wishes go with him to his old home.

McQuiddy, to be used in the new City Hall here, had been decided by Superior Judge Sewell in favor of the defendant city.

It will be remembered that the material in question had been purchased by McQuiddy & Son who, afterwards failed, and the company then tried to make the city pay for the goods but have failed in the attempt.

DEATH OF A MOTHER

A groom was cast over the whole valley Wednesday morning upon learning the sad intelligence that Mrs. Mary L. Kearney, beloved wife of J. J. Kearney, of Agua Caliente, had answered the final call. Death came as a relief from many weary months of suffering from the dread destroyer, consumption.

The deceased who was formerly Miss Mary L. Redmond, was a native of Springfield, Ohio, and came to this state when a child. She was married to Mr. Kearney about ten years ago, and two children, a son and daughter, were born to bless the union.

Deceased was a devout member of the Catholic Church and was greatly beloved by a wide circle of friends by whom she was held in high esteem for her many noble traits of character.

Sincere sympathy goes out to beloved ones in their irreparable loss.

The funeral took place from the residence of W. J. Kearney in El Verano, yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock thence to St. Francis' Church, Sonoma, where a solemn requiem mass was celebrated for the repose of her soul.

Interment was in Catholic Cemetery.

THE PHOENIX
Situated on Fourth St., in Santa Rosa, is one of the finest rooming houses in Northern California.
The finely furnished rooms are large and airy and so arranged that they can be used single or en suite. Everything about the house is new and the very best of modern furnishings are used throughout, including baths, hot and cold water, etc. Every room has an opening on a hall, every one of which is covered with rich carpet deeply padded. The whole place has a quiet, homelike air seldom seen in any rooming house.
Parties visiting the county seat and remaining over night could not secure a more convenient or comfortable rooms than those in the Phoenix, the swellest place in the City of Roses.

A New Enterprise
Plans are now being considered for a fine large modern hotel at Boyes Hot Springs.
The company has been re-incorporated, new capital has been enlisted and the demand for accommodations at the springs will soon be met.
It has been decided by the management that a new hotel is to be built immediately, a score of new bath tubs installed and other improvements will be made without delay.
These changes and additions will certainly prove very popular with the patrons of these famous springs.

A Peculiar Accident

ter dark to feed the horses and tripping upon a wire, fell against a pitchfork, the points of which entered his neck and shoulders. The wounds, while not serious, have been quite painful.

Made Good Investments

Roy A. Pauli, the accommodating clerk in Clewes', has wisely invested his savings in a choice lot in Loustalet's subdivision on Napa street. O. L. Hose, foreman in the Expositor office, has also secured a good lot. There is no better location in the city and those who are wise will see to it that they secure lots here before they are all taken and while the price is low.
The lots are sold for cash or easy payments and are increasing in value right along.

Don't neglect this opportunity to secure a good business or residence lot in our fast growing city. Make your selection now before these choice lots have all been sold. They are going fast. For particulars inquire at this office.

Given A Birthday Party

A delightful birthday party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
L. Maffei on Napa St., Sunday, August 25th., to celebrate the 17th birthday of their son James. It was a merry party indeed who gathered there in honor of the occasion. At 1 o'clock a dinner was served beneath the shady trees and heartily enjoyed by all present.
The guests voted "Jimmi" the genial host of the occasion, a jolly good fellow and wished him many returns of the day. Many presents were received.

Ten Years in Bed

"For ten years I was confined to my bed with disease of my kidneys," writes R. A. Gray, J. P. of Oakville, Ind. "It was so severe that I could not move part of the time. I consulted the very best medical skill available, but could get no relief until Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended to me. It has been a Godsend to me." L.
S. Simmons.

FACE TO FACE.

A New Problem For Women.

In the looking-glass a woman often sees wrinkles, hollow circles under the eyes, crooked feet—all because she did not turn to the right remedy when worn down with those troubles which are distinctly feminine. Backache, indigestion, nervousness and the pains and drains of womanhood bring such untold suffering that this face is sure to show it.

Every woman, young or old, is well protected from the blues, nervousness, backache, and the many symptoms of disease so prevalent among our women—if they will conscientiously take Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a safe and sure remedy for the ills of womanhood, because it contains not a particle of alcohol, digitalis or any deleterious drugs. Weak women are made strong and sick women are made well by this splendid prescription which was used by Doctor Pierce in his large private practice in the specialty of women's diseases. Every woman troubled in this way should write him about her case, care of his 'Hotel and Surgical Institute,' Buffalo, N. Y.

Many times women call on their family physicians, suffering as they imagine, only to be told that they are suffering from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous exhaustion or prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they all present alike to themselves and their easy-going and indifferent, or over-busy doctor, separate and distinct diseases, for which he assumes them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality they are only symptoms caused by some womb disease, the physician ignorant of the cause of sufferings encourages this practice until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, but probably worse, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said that "a disease known is half cured." In cases almost innumerable, after all other medicines had failed to help and doctors had said there was no cure possible, the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, supplemented, when necessary, by the medical advice and counsel of Dr. Pierce, has resulted in a perfect and permanent cure.

THE SECRET OUT.

To refute the many false and malicious attacks, bogus formulas and other untruthful statements published concerning Dr. Pierce's Family Medicine, the Doctor has decided to publish all the ingredients entering into them and place the same on the wrapper inclosing each bottle. The exact working formula for making these medicines cost Dr. Pierce and his collaborating Chemists and Pharmacists many years of study and experiments, but as perfected they produce almost perfect pharmaceutical compounds, embodying all the active medicinal principles residing in the ingredients employed, and preserving them perfectly for any length of time and in any climate without the use of a drop of alcohol.

These are the Original Little Pills. First put up over 40 years ago, by old Dr. R. V. Pierce. They've been much imitated but never equaled. Smallest cost, best taste and best. They're tiny, sugar-coated, anti-bilious granules, a compound of the most concentrated vegetable extracts. Without disturbance or trouble, constipation, indigestion, bilious attacks, sick and nervous headaches, and all derangements of the liver, stomach, and bowels are prevented. They're mild and natural action, these little pills gently lead the system into natural ways again. Their influence lasts.

munities in the land are those where the churches are strongest. The poorest are those where the churches are weakest. The church is the foe of all that is bad and the friend of all that is good. It is a nursery for the children, a training-school for the youth, a hospital for the sick, a fortress for the tempted, a life-boat for the imperiled. Its mission is rescue and nurture. It has a right to the sympathy and support of every self-respecting man and right-minded woman in the community. A good citizen should be ashamed to say, "I send my wife to church and my children to the Sunday school and I contribute to the pastor's salary, and that is my part." By no means. Religion cannot be attended to by proxy. A man's family cannot take his place in worshipping and serving God. Your place and my place is in the house of God on the Lord's day, in the interest of good citizenship, as well as in all other interests.

In a pulpit of an Oakland church where there was a congregation above a hundred the minister said: "I wish there were more men here this morning. There are only 15 present." "It is sometimes said there may not be men enough in heaven to sing bass," Ex-Governor St. John is reported to have said, "I made an address once to a thousand people, 991 men and 9 women. It was in a penitentiary. The next week I attended a prayer meeting where there were 51 women and 5 men. Compare the two meetings and make your own inference."

"Man cannot neglect the means of grace with impunity. There is many a man behind prison bars today who would not be there if he had gone to church with his mother, sister or wife. The church has a restraining influence which no one can safely disregard.

Now and then there may have been an ardent hypocrite who made church attendance and religious profession a cloak for his wickedness; but usually the church members who have gone to the penitentiary have been neglecters of the church. And he was a church member too, sneered the world, when a young Californian was sent to San Quentin. Yes, but his pastor could have testified that he had been to church and prayer meeting only twice for months before he committed his great crime."

3. Why should I go to church? To receive God's help. I am in trouble. In the church I learn something of the value of the discipline by sorrow. "I hear the scripture, 'Whom the Lord loveth, He chasteneth.' I learn such a lesson as was taught by the gifted leader of the King's Daughters, Margaret Bottoms: 'Beautiful china now means to me suffering,' she says, 'I shall never forget seeing it, after it had been so beautifully tinted, carried off to be burned. It was the only way. The painting would have been nothing without the burning; it would all have washed off. The colors had to be set, and that meant fire. I thought the china did not understand it, and was saying, perhaps bitterly, 'What is the use of being tinted if you have to go into an oven?' It will know some day, when it graces a palace, and every one exclaims, 'How beautiful!'"

So the discouraged soul finds comfort and instruction in the house of God. The psalmist describes his perplexity when he thought of the prosperity of the wicked. He could not understand why they should have "more than heart could wish," when they were proud and corrupt and violent and arrogant. "When I thought how I might know this," he said, "it was too painful for me, until I went into the sanctuary of God and considered their latter end." How apt are we to forget in the stress of the storm that God is at the helm! The church is built to remind us of God. Its service, from beginning to end, tells of the wisdom and power and love of God; how patient He is for the tempted, how compassionate to the suffering, how gracious to the penitent, how loving to the faithful!

In the supposed interest of good citizenship the English parliament, in 1581, passed an enactment by which those who did not attend church were subject to heavy penalties. But why do not mankind realize that they cannot afford to stay away from church? It is always safe to use the words of Moses to Hobab in inviting to church, "Come thou with us and we will do thee good."

They were building a great bridge over a river, and it was carried from both sides; to meet in the middle. But when the central span was swung into place, it did not fit; it fell short two inches, and no ingenuity could bridge the space. In dismay, they wired the designer of the bridge, and he telegraphed, "Wait till to-morrow noon." They wondered what he meant; but to-morrow noon they found that the sun's rays had expanded the metal so that, section to section, it precisely matched, and there was no crack at all—the bridge was one. "Stand still and see the salvation of God," is the message to us, at times in the sanctuary. How often we receive help there!

4. Why should we go to church? To brush off the dust and the grime of the world, I have said; to discharge a duty to good citizenship and to receive help. But through; out the discussion I have of necessity anticipated my last point: I should go to church, to worship God. He is the one "with whom I have to do." My relation to Him is vastly more intimate and important than to any of my fellow men. He is my Creator, Preserver, Sovereign, Redeemer. In the person of Christ, he is my Elder Brother; in the Holy Spirit, he is my Comforter and Sanctifier. He breathed into my nostrils the breath of life. He feeds and clothes and shelters me. He has stored the mines for me and furnished the fields, and stocked the waters. He has given me wise laws to obey, and hedged about my path to keep me from disobedience. He gave His only begotten Son, to die for me. The Son of God came into the world to help me by his teachings and his life, and to save me by his life and his death.

Why should I go to church? To thank the Lord for his mercies, to praise him for his goodness, to confess my sins to him, to ask his forgiveness, to pray for his help, and his blessing on others. True, I can do this at home. But I shall hardly continue to do it at home, if I voluntarily absent myself from church. Do people keep up a fervent spiritual life who allow excuses to keep them from church? If you wanted to put a tender lamb of the flock into the loving care of a faithful friend, would you seek such a friend among those who seem to care less for God and Christ than for the world and for family and friends?

5. O That all of us, by attendance at church, and by loving fellowship, might show that we belonged to the blessed company, of whom Lucy Larcom writes:

"God never meant us to be separated
From one another in our work and thought,
That share his spirit he has united,
That so his loving purpose may be wrought,
His gracious will be done,
In earth and heaven as one,
O blessed company of all the true—
His holy church—may I belong to you?"

His church: it is the home of every spirit
That looked and longed for him before he came;
That hears God's voice now, or shall ever hear it,
Through the dire chord of earth's outcast shame.
No knoweth who are his;
His goal upon them is,
O seattered, wandering flock: O loyal few!
One shepherd claims us, I belong to you.

God lives in his church; God works through his church. I speak not now of the sanctuary, but of the people, of those whose bodies are the temple of the Holy Ghost.

It is said that Paganini, the greatest of violinists, was announced to play before an august assembly in a community where he had enemies, many and influential. They spoke slightly of him, saying that he was not so great a musician as the people supposed.

Just before he appeared before the audience they hid his favorite instrument, a well seasoned, perfect Cremona violin. Paganini was full of rage. It was a plot to ruin him. But gradually he became calm, and taking a common violin from one of the members of the orchestra, he began to play his exquisite music. He was heard to mutter, "They shall see that the music is not in the violin, the music is in me."

Brethren, we are common violins; the music is not in us, but in God, the Master; He can, and He will, use us, if we are willing to be used. How shall we persuade men to go to church? By letting God do his glorious work upon us, and through us. By making the whole atmosphere of the church so charged with spirituality that every one here shall be constrained to say, "Surely the Lord is in this place." May this be the case with us, here and now!
